YEAR IN REVIEW

OneCity for Recovery entered its 7th year of helping those battling substance abuse in SW Ohio find a pathway to recovery. With the support of so many, over 8000 individuals have been directly reached out to and over 2000 of these individuals have been connected into treatment and recovery services and housing. Seven years of perseverance. And so many amazing stories of hope.

In the following pages you can not only find financial information but highlights of the great work going on here in our community. This includes the Hopeline Team hitting an all-time annual high with over 3,600 individuals reached out to in 2022. The King Home, a male recovery home in South Lebanon, continues to provide a place of recovery and healing.

We continue to be blessed with so many amazing partners which make this work possible. Organizationally, we welcome Andrew Cottrell to the OneCity Board. We are also excited about our new Advisory Board, a group of thought leaders and experts who provide valuable input to the OneCity strategy.

Finally, we thank all who attended our May "Race For Recovery" derby-themed gala. What a great night of support! We continue to be grateful and humbled by the impact OneCity For Recovery is having in our community and so very thankful for all of our partners and supporters.

With gratitude -

Kristie Hart, Executive Director

On behalf of the board, I wanted to thank our incredible team, partners and donors for your continued commitment to OneCity for Recovery. It truly takes a village to take on this horrible epidemic that our region is fighting. As I think about what has driven our success, the word COLLABORATION comes to mind. Incredible COLLABORATION from the County recovery boards (Butler, Warren, Clinton) to the multiple court systems (Warren, Hamilton), to local government (Middletown), to providers (Beckett), to faith communities (Crossroads providing lunches), to the over 150 service providers utilized with the Hopeline clients. Each of these amazing organizations pour their heart and soul into each client they serve. THANK YOU- what you are doing matters immensely and the ripple of your impact is being felt throughout the region!

When we embarked on this journey almost 10 years ago, I don't think any of us could have imagined the magnitude of impact that you have had.

On behalf of the thousands of individuals and families you have supported in this fight, I want to say THANK YOU. We have a lot of work in front of us, but could not be more proud of the ground we have taken.

Onward!

John Brase, President of the One City For Recovery Board

THE NEED

Unfortunately, substance abuse remains a significant public health crisis in our community. Ohio is among the states most impacted. According to the CDC, 107,375 people in the U.S. died of drug overdoses in the 12-month period ending in January 2022. Besides the use of opioids/fentanyl, there is rising use of methamphetamine and cocaine. All of this comes with devastating impacts on individuals, families, and communities. Effective prevention and treatment efforts are crucial to supporting those who are struggling with this chronic disease that affects the brain and behavior.

Hopeline Client

The Hopeline's love and 7 years of hard work is paying off. I see generational curses of addiction being broken. I now work alongside former Hopeline clients who are in recovery with multiple years sober. They are showing their clients the exact same love and support the Hopeline once showed them. Truly powerful and beautiful.

> Lindsey Ervin Hopeline Program Manager

Hopeline is a unique set of services that has helped our residents find care by staying with the person through their stages of change. Lots of folks are not ready yet and this team has found ways to continually engage and keep in contact with those that may be ready for recovery soon.

Jeff Rhein

Deputy Director - Mental Health Recovery Board Serving Warren & Clinton Counties

Having a Hopeline peer support work with our program has been invaluable. She has provided support for potential clients and their families from a lived experience perspective. We often rely on her incredible ability to build relationships, effectively advocate, and eliminate barriers while working collaboratively with the rest of the Drug Court team.

Isaiah Lumpkins

Drug Court Director Hamilton County Drug Treatment and Recovery Court

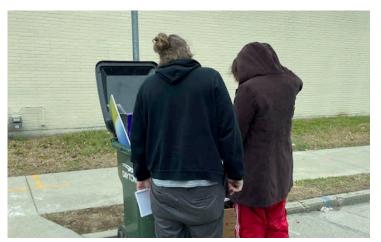

OneCity is the tangible evidence of God's work. It is the safety net, triage, and connector of those in greatest need to the caring hands of those that can best receive them.

Quinton E. Moss MD

CEO and Medical Director Modern Psychiatry and Wellness

The thing I am impressed by most with the Hopeline staff is their grit and perseverance. They pursue clients like they are their own family members, caring for them with both compassion and tenacity.

KING HOME

We celebrate the five-year anniversary of the King Home this summer and the over 75 residents it has served. OneCity purchased and opened this first mens' recovery home in South Lebanon in July 2018. The King Home is now officially a six person Level 2 Recovery Home operating in partnership with Whole Truth Ministries. Meet some of the residents and their stories...

Brandon S

Age: 37 Sober 2.5 Years

Brandon was raised in an upper income Cincinnati area. Having access to alcohol at a young age, he used it to manage stress, which lead to marijuana, and eventually hard drugs. Brandon eventually lost his job, was evicted from his apartment as well as having a restraining order put in place with his daughter.

In 2020, Brandon completed treatment and moved into the King Home. Brandon has maintained his recovery utilizing his faith, giving back, and trying to help others in recovery. Brandon is now employed and has an apartment. And this year, he met his daughter for the first time on her second birthday. For Brandon, maintaining sobriety requires a constant connection with Jesus, a daily rhythm that includes prayer, weightlifting, prioritization of group meetings, working and being a father to his daughter.

David H

Age: 61 Sober 2.0 Years

For many years, David was a functional addict appearing to be living a normal life. But ultimately drug use led to a divorce and a multitude of treatment centers.

For David, turning away from drugs required the admission that he was not able to conquer this addiction on his own and turned his recovery and life over to God. David changed his environment by moving away from friends and places that created a destructive environment. The King Home provided a stable and supportive community of men recovering from similar circumstances. David lived at the King Home for 2 years. He is now a House Manager for a recovery home in Cleves, Ohio.

Brian A

Age: 49 Sober 1.5 Years

Like many, Brian's path into addiction came from use of pain pills from a work injury. When the prescriptions were cut off, the negative spiral began.

Brian entered treatment in October 2021 and lived at the King Home. Brian took multiple entry level jobs having 100% attendance while depending only on a donated bike for transportation. Brian is now a manager of a Chipotle Restaurant and is in training to become the General manager of his own store. Brian recently moved into his own apartment. His recovery includes the attendance or regular recovery meetings, support of a mentor, frequent contact with his community, church attendance and a stronger reliance on Jesus.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

What started as a small group of repeat supporters and a few gala events has grown now into a partnership of private donors, county governments and private foundations fueling the work of our Care Coordinators throughout the region. The generosity of our early supporters gave us the flexibility to pursue our mission right away and the efficacy of our model has attracted new investors creating the scale necessary to touch more clients.

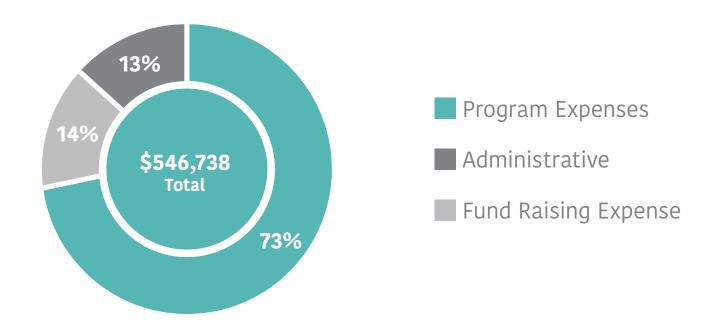

We carefully manage our business model to stay focused on our mission and fuel the efforts of our team to guide our clients to the support they need for recovery. In addition, we manage our resources to balance our fund-raising needs with our commitments to assure a long-term positive impact.
